

MESSAGE FROM THE TOWN MANAGER

Matthew Proves the Importance of Planning and Preparation

While the devastating winds, rain and rising waters created by Hurricane Matthew stayed out to sea as it passed by Surfside, many coastal areas from northern Florida to the Carolinas suffered severe property damage, dangerous floods and loss of homes and lives.

The event was a stark reminder of the dangers posed by tropical storms in our region. With a long period without a major storm threatening South Florida, it is easy to become complacent. On behalf of Surfside and all our staff, we thank all of those residents who heeded the warnings and adequately prepared for the potential impacts from Hurricane Matthew.

The importance of planning and preparation cannot be overstated. Surfside is a narrow coastal community located between the Atlantic Ocean and Biscayne Bay. From June 1 to November 30, you must stay prepared and have an evacuation plan, supplies and food.

Once a tropical storm or hurricane watch or warning is declared DO NOT prune trees or dispose of any large bulky items, tree limbs or clippings on the right-of-way. These items could become airborne, causing injuries and property damage. Items in the gutter will also prevent proper draining and cause flooding.

Finally, after a storm be patient. It will take time for our the Public Works Department to perform its clean-up duties. Most importantly, keeping you and your family safe should be your number one priority.

In closing, don't miss your opportunity to show our military veterans your gratitude for their service. Surfside's traditional salute to our Veterans is a moving and memorable event. See information below.

Surfside Resident Constance Collins Renews Hope For the Homeless

After a career in commercial real estate in New York, Boston and Washington, D.C., Constance Collins came to South Florida with the intention of retiring. She was still working at the time, focusing on urban in-fill projects. One day, she found a homeless woman bathing in a fountain at one of her properties. After befriending the woman, Constance discovered there was no specific services devoted to the fastest growing segment of the homeless: women and women with young children.

Soon after, she purchased a run-down apartment building in Overtown and founded Lotus House Woman's Shelter in March of 2006. Constance, now a Surfside resident, had found her calling.

In the past decade, her labor of love has lifted thousands of women, youth and children out of homelessness. Lotus House has grown into a full service, free transitional residential facility and resource center serving up to 250 women and young children at a time who are experiencing homelessness with wrap-around support services, including counseling, child therapy, parenting classes, health care, job readiness training and arts and crafts.

Renown nationally for its success, the unique Lotus House model is based on innovative principles of education, empowerment and holistic programs to heal the body, mind and spirit.

"Often, the women and children who come to us have experienced persistent emotional and physical trauma. At Lotus House, we help them rebuild their lives and relationships," Constance said.

While Lotus House has expanded, it is still forced to turn away 2,000 women and children a year. To face this overwhelming need, a $28 million planned mixed-use shelter and comprehensive health and wellness facility designed to prevent and end homelessness has been launched. Called Lotus Village, the facility will bring the residential capacity up to 500 women and children and will have a clinic, classrooms, kitchens, computer library, early learning center, a salon, community pavilion and gardens.

Several years ago, when looking for her own residence, Constance moved to a "small bungalow" in Surfside. She loves the warm feeling of the small community.

"First, I was looking for security. I wanted a neighborhood where I could safely walk at night on the streets and look at the stars. Plus I love the architecture of the older homes," she said. "Being close to the ocean was important for me. I like beach combing and I am an avid ocean swimmer. Surfside is perfect for me."

A rendering of the new Lotus Village, which will serve up to 500 women and children. A ground-breaking was held in September 2016.

To learn how to help with the new Lotus Village project and become a founder, see www.lotusendowment.org or contact Constance Collins, Executive Director, 305-613-1573, constance@lotusendowment.org.

POLICE BEAT

New Business District Officer Program Underway

The Surfside Police Department has initiated a new program on October 10: the Business District Officer. Officer Alejandro Lorente (at right) has been designated as the Business District Officer and is on duty from Tuesday through Friday from 12 noon to 10 p.m. This assignment is designed to incorporate a consistent police presence in the Business District during its busiest hours. The business owners and regular visitors to the area will develop a relationship with the Business District Officer and further enhance the Community Policing philosophy and practices.

Chief Allen will host a safety/security meeting to address any concerns of Surfside businesses on November 15 at 11 a.m. in the Police Training Room.

Surfside Brothers Enjoy Being the 'Chief for a Day'

As part of National Community Policing Week, Chief Allen participated in the Chief for a Day program with two young Surfside residents who "shadowed" him on October 3. Trey and Logan Brennen enjoyed a special experience that included a tour of the Surfside Police Station, patrolling the community, riding in the Polaris on the beach and taking a boat ride with the Bal Harbour marine patrol.

National Community Policing Week was October 3-7 and law enforcement departments throughout South Florida made dreams come true for young people in their community. The program enhances efforts to build trust and strong bonds between police departments and the youth of their communities as the boys and girls spent the day with a leader of their Town.

Trey and Logan also met Surfside officers, toured Town Hall and enjoyed a K-9 demonstration from Miami Beach Police Department.

Combat Veteran Speaks at Leadership Training Event

Greg Stube, a Sergeant First Class in the U.S. Army Special Forces, spoke at a Leadership Training event sponsored by the Surfside Police Department. Sgt. Stube told the audience an inspiring and extraordinary story of service, sacrifice and heroic leadership. He survived severe injuries while fighting in Afghanistan and is the honorable recipient of the Bronze Star, Purple Heart and multiple army and national medals. Surfside, Bal Harbour, Bay Harbor Islands, North Bay Village and Sunny Isles Beach Police Officers attended the seminar.

Participate in National Recycling Day

November 15 has been designated America Recycles Day. It is a program of Keep America Beautiful and is a nationally recognized day dedicated to promoting and celebrating recycling in the United States. Every year on or around November 15, America Recycles

Day educates neighbors, friends and colleagues about the importance of recycling. The Town of Surfside will be observing America Recycles Day on November 15 and we need your help. The Town is looking for block leaders to help promote recycling within the community. The block leaders will be responsible for going to door to door within their assigned area (a great way to meet your neighbors) and discuss thoroughly what items can be recycled. These items will be collected on November 15 during your regularly scheduled recycling pick-up.

If you are interested in being a block captain for the following areas please let us know by emailing: fduval@townofsurfsidefl.gov

Landscapers Must Remove Clippings, Hurricane Tips

The Surfside Public Works Solid Waste strives to provide a safe and clean environment for residents, businesses and visitors. Commercial gardeners tend to leave large amounts of cuttings and trimmings that clog and contaminate the Town's storm drain system. The Town Commission passed an ordinance (Ordinance 14-1619) on May 13, 2014, amending Code Section 66-7 that requires landscapers to remove vegetation from the property. Any landscaper leaving vegetation will result in the property owner being cited. Residents should remind their landscaper to haul away and clippings to avoid being cited.

HURRICANE TIPS

The Public Works Department would like to thank all of those residents who heeded the warnings and adequately prepared for the potential impacts from Hurricane Matthew. The event reinforces the annual danger we face from tropical storms and the importance of planning and preparation.

- Do not prune trees or dispose of any bulky waste on the right-of-way. During Matthew, glass aquariums, playground equipment, shower doors and tree trunks were put on the curb. During a Tropical Storm/ Hurricane Watch or Warning declaration, Public works will not collect these items. Do not leave any uncollected vegetation in the streets. Bag it and place it in a garbage container and place the container in a secure place such as a garage. Remember to bring in both garbage and recycling containers.

- Make sure that your curb/gutter is free of debris to allow for proper draining.
- Remember that when a watch or warning is declared, Town Hall will be closed. When normal business operations resume, the Public Works Solid Waste Division will begin by collecting household garbage only.
- The Public Works department asks that residents remain patient as cleanup after a storm can take time. As for actual debris, if any, we ask that you separate it. Construction and demolition debris should not be mixed with vegetative debris.

For additional information on how to be hurricane ready, please visit the Town's website <http://www.townofsurfsidefl.gov>.

Surfside: Transforming Tides Photographs by Tina Paul

Now on display in Surfside Community Center, are previously unseen images by Town Commissioner and photographer Tina Paul. The photos represent the transforming tide of Surfside within its illustrious paradise.

Tina Paul has chronicled life in Surfside having been raised here since birth. Her creative curiosity evolved while attending Miami Beach Senior High and the friendships she formed at Miami Dade College influenced Tina to study photography at School of Visual Arts in New York City.

Tina developed her style and edge working commercially and artistically, documenting culture within its many different layers. Surfside was the special place Tina came back to every year to visit family where she could access and explore the charm and changing of Miami Beach. The importance of Tina's work evolved over time, as her subjects became more prominent and culturally historic.

After years of life and work in New York, Tina relocated back to Surfside to live close to her parents. Her return coincided with the influx of development that continues to challenge the look and feel of Surfside. Until recently, this progression had been a gradual steady expansion.

Last year, during Art Basel Tina collaborated with the Museum of Fashion in the exhibition, Beyond the Limelight, NYC's Nightlife in the 80s & 90s. Her work will return to Wynwood this year during Art Basel, as Tina joins Patricia Field ArtFashion Basel Miami edition at White Dot Gallery in December.

Get Familiar With Beach Warning Flags

Surfside beach uses a uniform flag warning system to advise beachgoers of potential safety risks. These colored flags indicate the nature of the threat and the current surf/current conditions. The flag warning system is consistent throughout Florida. Flags are displayed at the lifeguard tower located on 93 Street beach. You can also contact Parks and Recreation for current beach conditions at 305-866-3635.

SUPER SOCCER STARS

Join the Town of Surfside Parks and Recreation Department as we collaborate with Super Soccer Stars to bring in a new and exciting program. At Super Soccer Stars, it is our goal to teach soccer skills in a fun, non-competitive, educational environment. Our philosophy is to use soccer to nurture, to build self-confidence, and to develop teamwork in every class. Our specially designed curricula use positive reinforcement and a low child-to-coach ratio to ensure that each child improves at his or her own rate while having endless fun.
