

TOWN OF SURFSIDE

GAZETTE

Message from the Town Manager

November 6, 2012 is a very important day. Not only do we elect a President, we also vote on numerous amendments to the State Constitution, amendments to the Miami-Dade County Charter and amendments to our Surfside Charter. It is possible to vote absentee, vote early or come to the poll the old fashioned way. The ballot is long so preparation is critically important. My goal in this message is to explain the three Surfside Charter amendments on the ballot in a value neutral manner as required by the law. I cannot advocate in this publicly-funded Gazette ... only inform. Please also look at Page 5 of this Gazette to see the actual language. Feel free to e-mail me if you have detailed questions.

The first Charter Amendment has to do with the creation of a Citizen's Bill of Rights as a preamble to the Charter. Just like the U.S. Constitution and the Miami Dade Charter have Bills of Rights to clearly define your rights, so does this Amendment establish protections which are not now in place.

The second Charter Amendment requires that a comprehensive Charter review begin within twelve months after adoption of the Amendment and every 10 years thereafter. This will ensure that updating the Charter happens soon and in the future. Any changes in the future will have to be voted on by our registered voters.

The third change is complicated. However, it is meant to clear up some confusion and differing interpretations from a previous 2004 Charter Amendment that regulates density, intensity and height of buildings. None of the 2004 voter approved controls are being diminished. In fact, by clearly defining the provisions of the 2004 Amendment, the intent of the voters will be clear to staff and property owners.

In these difficult days where trust and faith in government is greatly diminished, I cannot and will not presume to advise you how to vote. Please read the article on Page 5 and draw your own conclusion. Just remember that the right to vote is a very special privilege and make every effort to exercise that right. As always, thanks for the opportunity to manage this extraordinary community.

- Roger M. Carlton

- Shared goals and aligned efforts among businesses
- A cleaner, safer and more attractive business district
- A steady and reliable funding source for services and programs
- The ability to respond quickly to the changing needs of the business community
- A fund to market special events and sales promotion that will help lower businesses advertising costs, improve sales and decrease commercial vacancy rates

David Sime: From Olympic Sprinter to Renown Surgeon

With the afterglow of the spectacular London Olympics just behind us, Surfsiders will be fascinated by the life-long achievements of fellow resident Dr. David Sime. A silver medalist in the 100 meters in Rome's 1960 games, Sime was an extraordinary natural athlete who went on to become a world-renowned ophthalmologist.

Born and raised in New Jersey, for a period in the 1950s Sime was considered the world's fastest man and held seven world records – even though he became a sprinter by accident. While playing baseball as a freshman at Duke University, a coach casually timed him in the 100-yard dash and he nearly broke the school record. A year later he was a fraction off the world record. Sports Illustrated called him "Superman in Spikes."

Sime held several world records and was the clear favorite to win gold medals in the sprint competitions at the Melbourne Olympics in 1956. But an unfortunate injury while horseback riding kept him from competing – and leaving his mark in the history books. Four years later, Sime was a second-year medical student when he competed in the Rome Olympics. His foot crossed the line first in the 100 meters, but it is the chest that determines the winner and Sime finished after German Armin Hary – taking home the silver medal. Later, Sime anchored the winning American 4x100 relay team, but again he was denied gold as the team was disqualified for an illegal baton pass. "You live with setbacks and disappointments and go forward," he said.

Back in the U.S., Sime turned down multiple offers to play both professional football and baseball. He once worked out with Willie Mays on the old Polo Grounds.

Instead, he chose to continue in medical school. He finished in the top ten percent of his class and eventually was named Athlete of the Century at Duke for dominating in football, track and baseball.

"That was the most important decision I made, to get an education. That is a message for young athletes today. With an education, you can have a profession to rely on in the future." He wanted to be an ophthalmologist and when a residency position was offered at the University of Miami's Bascom Palmer Eye Institute, he jumped at the opportunity.

"I had visited Florida while in college and loved the ocean and the weather. I thought it would be a great place to raise a family. Dr. Sime excelled at Bascom Palmer and would become a pioneer surgeon in the use of intraocular lenses.

For 42 years he practiced ophthalmology and also served for many years as one of the official physicians for the Miami Dolphins. Today, he remains close friends with Don Shula and Bob Griese. He and his wife, Ileana, recently moved to Surfside after living in Key Biscayne and Bal Harbour. They also have a summer home in North Carolina. "We love it here. It is great to be living on the water again," he said. Ileana helps with the letters and emails that continue to arrive from track fans world-wide. Still active and fit at 75, Dr. Sime was asked about the current world record holder. "Bolt? He is definitely out of my league. I think he's from another planet."

Sime and Bobby Morrow were on the cover of the July 1956 Sports Illustrated. Morrow never beat Sime in a race, but he won three golds in Melbourne after Sime was injured.

Surfside Charter Amendments On Nov. 6 Ballot

In July of this year, the Town Commission approved a resolution to add three Town of Surfside Charter amendments to the Nov. 6, 2012 general election ballot. To fully understand the amendments, residents are encouraged to review the following information.

Description of the Amendments:

1. Adding a Preamble and Citizen's Bill of Rights to the Town Charter.

This amendment would add a Preamble and Citizen's Bill of Rights to the Town Charter. Similar to the U.S. Constitution, the Bill of Rights outlines residents rights, such as access to public records, to be heard, to notice, to a public hearing, to representation and no unreasonable postponements. The full wording of the Preamble and Bill of Rights is available at the Office of the Town Clerk.

2. Mandatory Charter Review. This amendment states that within the first 12 months after the adoption of this provision, the Town Commission will begin a Charter Review. Then, commencing in December 2022, the Commission will appoint a Charter review board every 10 years. The Charter review board will consist of five persons, one appointed by each Commissioner and ratified by a majority of the Commission. The board will begin its review within 45 days of being appointed.

3. Clarification of the intensity, density and height restrictions in development. This amendment provides revised language to better define these limits to reflect that: a) density means number of units per acre. b) intensity means the floor area ratio as described in the Comprehensive Plan: total square footage of building divided by the total square footage of the lot where the building is located. c) height is defined in both number of floors and feet so that there is no misinterpretation.

Form of Ballot:

The form of ballot of the charter amendments will appear as follows:

1. PREAMBLE AND CITIZENS' BILL OF RIGHTS

Shall the Town Charter be amended to add a Preamble and "Citizen's Bill of Rights" that creates certain individual rights and guarantees those rights to citizens of Surfside?
Yes []

No []

2. MANDATORY CHARTER REVIEW

It is being proposed that within the first (12) twelve months after adoption of this provision, the Town shall commence charter review. Thereafter every tenth (10th) year commencing in December 2022, a charter review board shall be appointed by the Town Commission for purposes of charter review. Shall the above-described amendment be adopted?

Yes []

No []

3. GENERAL POWERS; RESRICTION ON DEVELOPMENT

On March 16, 2004, the electorate adopted a limitation on height, density and intensity of development allowable as of that date. It is being proposed that the restriction be maintained, but the language be clarified and reinforced to reflect that density means number of units per acre, that maximum floor area ratios be properly referenced as floor area ratio and heights be defined in both stories and feet. Shall the above described amendment be adopted?

Yes []

No []
